

IVECO

Iveco (Industrial Vehicles Corporation) is a world leader in the field of transport, with sales that exceed Euro 9 billion, and is part of the Fiat group based in Italy. Iveco is a manufacturer and distributor of medium and heavy trucks for New Zealand's road transport industry.

The majority of Iveco trucks sold in New Zealand are manufactured in Dandenong Victoria, Australia, and backed up by one of the country's most extensive support networks.

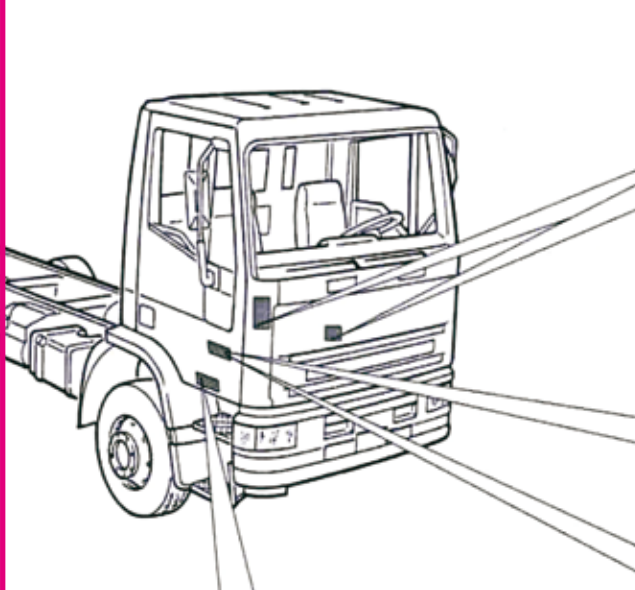

TRT is one of the largest of 13 major service dealers, based strategically around both the north and south islands of New Zealand. From its hey days of International Acco, S & T Line models, Seddon Atkinson, to the new Acco, Eurocargo and Stralis models, Iveco continues it's strong presence in the New Zealand market.
