UPDATE FROM STEPHEN FORSTER

TRT PARTS

Welcome to the new year, which unfolds with promises of hope and renewal. I hope you all enjoyed the holiday season with family and friends, and the improved weather that graced Christmas and the New Year period - and have come back refreshed and invigorated and ready to tackle 2024.

As we look forward to the year ahead, we cannot ignore the economic challenges that characterized 2023. Businesses faced unprecedented hurdles, navigating through uncertainties, and adapting to a rapidly moving landscape (in some cases literally!), not at least a new government which will bring significant changes over the coming months.

I believe the challenges of 2023 have built resilience throughout our business community, and especially our industry. That strength and stability will give us a great platform to launch into 2024 with a sense of renewed optimism.

In this spirit, our dedication to high-quality customer service remains unwavering. We understand the integral role our customers play in the economic tapestry, and we are here to provide unwavering support.

So as we venture into the new year, our mission at TRT is clear: a commitment to supporting and adding value to your business by offering solutions that propel growth and success.

Let's embark on this journey with confidence, determination, and a commitment to prosperity and building a stronger future together.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

On the cover: Remanned transmission - before and after. Besides Eaton Roadranger transmissions TRT also reman BPW steer axles, and run an exchange programme* for both. *Terms and conditions apply.

McLeod Cranes' TIDD Crane in action manoeuvring concrete safety barriers at a roadworks site along the No.1 Motorway, just north of Te Rapa in Waikato, New Zealand.

Spartan Construction Limited, based in Hamilton, New Zealand provides innovative solutions to complex engineering problems. Recently, they acquired a brand-new Grove GRT8100-1 Rough Terrain Crane, the second of this new model in the southern hemisphere.

Prior to the formal handover from TRT New Zealand's Sales Engineer, Jordin Hutchinson, to Spartan Construction's General Manager, Joe Fluhler, the Grove crane underwent a thorough Pre-Delivery Inspection (PDI) conducted by TRT's Crane Service team led by Elton Peterson, TRT's Crane Service Manager.

GET A GRIP GET MOVING GET TRACTION AIR®

TRT introduces the new Traction Air®
CTI EM series

IMPROVED DESIGN:

The new EM Series features a simplified and improved manifold design that optimises airflow and improves pressure distribution. This enables the system to perform more efficiently, delivering improved responsiveness for traction.

SIMPLIFIED INSTALLATION:

The innovative pressure cell's design is 50% more compact than the existing model, allowing for enhanced installation flexibility in tight spaces. This simplicity ensures that our system can be seamlessly integrated into a vehicle, regardless of its size or configuration.

ROBUST, LIGHTWEIGHT PROTECTION:

The new EM Series pressure cell is housed in a robust yet lightweight cover, providing the necessary protection against environmental elements without adding unnecessary weight to your vehicle.
